Office of Human Capital (OHC) Staff Briefing & Demonstration

a partnership of
Office of Human Capital Management
Integrated Enterprise Management Program
NASA Shared Services Center

April 26, 2007

Today we will...

- Introduce the HCIE Workforce Services portal
- Demonstrate portal features
- Discuss Center roles & responsibilities

Later...

- Center Transition Team will provide hands-on assistance and training to OHC civil service staff and designated contractor support personnel
- Engage Center functional areas in the portal development
- Establish communities for each OHC functional area (i.e., Staffing, Training, Classification, etc.)
- Establish communities for each OHC project area (i.e., Career Path Development Initiative, EPCS & e-OPF implementations, etc.)
- OHC staff will update portal requirements and provide feedback to portal developers.

What is a Portal “Community”?

Definition

- Communities are sites within the portal designed for a specific organization or task
- Current examples:
 - Marshall Space Flight Center
 - HCIE Change Management
 - NASA Shared Services Center (two sub-communities)
 - NSSC HR Internal
 - NSSC Director and Leadership Team

Managing a community

- The portlets, layout, community preferences, and sub communities within a community are determined by the community manager and modified by the content manager (could be the same person).
- Initial setting up of a community will take 20 – 50 hours (estimated).
- Maintaining content could be a daily task or updated as needed.

HCIE Center Transition Team Members

Human Capital Information Environment

- Thom Holden / HS10 – Center Transition Team Lead
- Brian Rogers / HS10 (ASRI) – Change Management Lead
- Rachel Stewart / HS20 – MSFC Portal Community Manager
- Wendy Sullivan / HS50 – MSFC Portal Content Manager

HCIE Agency Team Members

- Lou Nosenzo / HS01 – HCIE Organization Quadrant Subteam Lead
- David Jeffreys / HS20 – HCIE Workforce Planning Quadrant Subteam Lead

The Portal vision...

- a) Create an online workplace to conduct Human Capital business --- for NASA employees, managers, business units, and workforce planners
- b) Consolidate, standardize, and secure our access to and delivery of human capital databases, information, tools, and services
- c) Provide a low cost, secure, focused internal collaboration capability that:
 - uses electronic means to rapidly develop and embed a “shared mindset, shared vision, and shared agenda” for NASA Human Capital management
 - is interoperable with agency legacy and future systems
 - supports NASA Shared Services
 - is interoperable with other agencies’ HR portlets
 - complements the InsideNASA portal

The Targeted users...

Human Capital Information Environment

Licensed Users

- NASA civil servants (20K)

Guest Users

- New Employee Orientation and In-processing
- Selected contractor support
- NASA Retirees

New ways of doing business...

- “Business at the speed of light”
- Business happening 24 / 7 /365
- Transactions and information delivery are much easier, faster, and accurate
- Information, tools, and data are at our managers’ and employees’ finger tips...
 - they will rely less on your personal knowledge
 - and more on your ability to analyze, make recommendations, develop solutions
- You can be more proactive and less reactive
- You become much less transactional...more of a strategic partner

Some thoughts on your role...

- The portal belongs to you.
 - It communicates what you do; how well you do it
 - It is a reflection of OHCM and your Center....HC leadership and staff.....and you!
- You are the functional experts.... you know the content.
- Take ownership and responsibility for content, quality, marketing, and change management
- Learn the features by using them
- Provide feedback, ideas, support, solutions
- The portal is still in development. Your job is to complete it.
- Put on a happy face!

HCIE Welcome

Welcome to the NASA Human Capital Information Environment's Workforce Services portal. This is your one-stop service center and workspace for NASA human capital tools, information, and services. The Workforce Services portal is organized into four service areas: Employee, Organization, Business Support, and Workforce Planning. This Service portal also provides dedicated collaboration workspace for Human Capital functional and project communities. HCIE is provided through a partnership of the NASA Office of Human Capital Management (OHCN), the Integrated Enterprise Management (IEM) Program, and the NASA Shared Services Center (NSSC).

The Workforce Services portal is in development. You are viewing the portal in the production environment. If you have any suggestions please contact us.
